

Emanuela (Amy) D'Ambrogio L'02

Special Counsel
Barclay Damon LLP
Syracuse, NY

Amy D'Ambrogio's practice involves national real property tax compliance and defense work relating to property taxation. She also counsels not-for-profit entities providing critical services to individuals with special needs and disabilities on legal compliance and defends these organizations in the event of alleged legal violations, both civil and criminal.

D'Ambrogio primarily concentrates her practice on representing businesses, energy and utility clients, and individuals in real property tax, eminent domain, and land use disputes. She routinely assists energy and utility clients in negotiating tax-assessment reductions, resulting in substantial real property tax savings. D'Ambrogio also routinely advises clients on defending eminent domain proceedings, from preliminary hearing stages to litigation involving the acquisition of real property interests, trade fixtures, and leasehold rights.

D'Ambrogio also represents health care not-for-profits, including agencies serving individuals with developmental disabilities, mental illnesses, and alcohol- and other substance-use disorders. She routinely counsels health care clients who are responding to Medicaid and other government investigations and audits as well as related employment and contract matters.

She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from LeMoyne College and her Juris Doctorate from Syracuse University College of Law. D'Ambrogio is a Board of Directors Member for the Central New York Women's Bar Association, and is a member of the New York State and Onondaga County Bar Associations, and the Women's Bar Association of the State of New York. Memberships and Affiliations include: Barclay Damon's Women's Forum, NYSBA Real Property Law Section Executive Committee, and the NYSBA Not-for-Profit Entities and Concerns Committee, Co-Chair. She is admitted to practice in the State of New York and the US District Court for the Northern District of New York.